ABOUT

Community Health Partnership (CHP) is a consortium of federally qualified health centers and community clinics in Santa Clara and San Mateo counties with the mission to advocate for affordable and accessible health services for our diverse and multicultural communities regardless of socioeconomic, ethnic, religious or cultural background and to support our member organizations in achieving these goals. The role of the South Bay Area Health Education Center (AHEC) in the community is to facilitate and link academic needs and training with community workforce priorities.

The South Bay AHEC works with community health centers, community-based organizations and academic institutions to provide community-based clinical experience for health professions students and residents. The work that the South Bay AHEC does includes improving core competencies in workforce retention, continuing education in practice transformation and enhancing the civic engagement literacy of the health care workforce.

The South Bay AHEC provides training in partnership with CHP through their four initiatives and programs which include expanding access to health care, ensuring workforce readiness in a changing health care environment, improving quality of care and shaping health care policy through advocacy.
